A Catholic who has received the sacrament of Confirmation may serve as a lector. Please consider sharing your talents by reading Sacred Scripture for our parish liturgies.

You Are Cordially Invited...

Welcome to the Thirty-second Sunday in Ordinary Time. The Gospel this week is a bit of a riddle. What is Jesus talking about with this parable of lamps and oils? Curtis Mitch and Edward Sri in their book, The Gospel of Matthew offer this: “When the parable is read in the light of Matthew’s Gospel as a whole, it seems that the oil corresponds to the performance of good works...The parable thus urges disciples to persevere in good works. It is one thing to make a strong start in the Christian life, to believe in Jesus and commit one self to repentance. But this commitment must be sustained over time. There is the danger that a believer may grow tired of doing good. One’s enthusiasm for works of righteousness can run out. Every disciple is offered the grace and opportunity to continue in good works, to acquire the oil that he or she will need when the Lord returns. Only those who do so will be recognized by the bridegroom and welcomed into the nuptial celebration of the kingdom.”

Pope Francis adds this: “the parable explains how Jesus tells people they must be prepared - both for Jesus’s final coming and in their daily commitment to meeting him through charity to those in need. The lamp of faith is not enough; we also need the oil of charity and good works. Being wise and prudent means not waiting until the last moment to correspond to God’s grace” with good deeds, but to convert now. Unfortunately, we forget the purpose of our life, that is, the definitive appointment with God, thus losing the sense of expectation and making the present absolute. If we allow ourselves to be guided by what seems most attractive to us, by the search for our interests, our life becomes sterile; we do not accumulate any reserve of oil for our lamp, and it will be extinguished before the Lord’s coming.”

As someone who is a people pleaser, a fixer and a Martha, I want to remind all of us (yep, talking to myself again, too!) that adding some self-kindness is needed as well. By this I do not mean self-indulgence. I mean little things that nourish our own souls. For me, it is often taking a 30 minute break during lunch and going for a walk. Walking helps me to clear my head, to talk to God and to take care of my health. The proportion of God, others, and self-care in your life is unique to every individual and changes frequently. The key is to add in enough self-kindness so that we don’t fall victim to burnout as we honor and serve God by taking care of our brothers and sisters in need. I also find that a huge amount of prayer is needed. God isn’t always calling me to “fix” a situation, especially if it is harmful to me or is the result of a poor choice on another’s part. That is one of the reasons that I find it so important to attend Mass each weekend. God’s Word is alive! One can hear the same reading multiple times and depending on what is happening in our lives, various nuances and meanings can be discovered. Those words are then nourished at the Eucharist table before God sends us back out into the world to share his love with our brothers and sisters. It is a cycle that I have come to depend upon.

When Father Jack first arrived at All Saints he brought an idea of stewardship with him from another parish: The Power of One. One hour of prayer per week. If we break this one down into 5 minutes in the morning and 5 minutes at night we have 70 minutes of prayer - we’re over achievers already! One hour of service. All Saints Social Justice Committee supports many agencies in the metro Cedar Rapids area through your generosity with the Loaves and Fish collection each month. Most have few paid staff and depend on the generosity of volunteers to help achieve their mission to rehabilitate, feed, cloth and restore dignity to the lives of those in need. One hour of income to support All Saints and others who work to provide Social Justice to our brothers and sisters. All Saints can only be as strong as our donation base. We are committed to developing disciples, introducing God to those who do not know Him and building a strong, vibrant community, but we can’t do that if we don’t have the funds to heat the building, purchase materials, have the lights on and provide just wages to the staff. We appreciate your financial generosity and partnership!

And so, I invite you to Mass (and then the next and the next...) If you know someone who has been absent or who is seeking God to come into their life, invite them to join you! If you have been absent for a while, come back - we need you and love you. Love God - Serve Others - Form Disciples. Praying and hoping with you always.

Unwrapping Your Spiritual Gifts

"To each person the Manifestation of the Spirit is given for common good"

1 Corinthians 12:7

Do you like to help others but don't seek recognition?

Are you able to lead a group efficiently and see what needs to be done?

Do people seek you out to listen to their stories or ask your advice?

Are you drawn to prayer for the needs of others?

Have you wondered why you really enjoy certain things and not others?

This informative workshop looks at ways to identify those God given gifts and how they are manifested in our lives.

DEAR ~~YOUTH~~ All PEOPLE...

We're Looking for YOU!

Dear All Saints Community,

My name is Isabelle Werner. I am honored to serve All Saints as Coordinator of Middle and High School Faith Formation. I have served All Saints for over a year now, and I can confidently say that meeting the youth here at All Saints has been one of the biggest blessings I have ever received. The students here are truly genuine, kind, and faith-filled, each with their passions, gifts, and experiences.

We have more than doubled our youth group attendance, which has been a remarkable experience and has affirmed what we are doing is meaningful and important to the youth of All Saints. One of the hallmarks of Ablaze Youth Ministry is the one-on-one relationship building between students and adult mentors. However, adjusting to these increasing numbers means we are trying to provide that same level of care to each student, with the same amount of adults.

I gave our youth ministry program the name "Ablaze" not just for the catchy title, but because it harkens back to the story of Emmaus (Luke 24:13-35) when the disciples felt their hearts ablaze with the Holy Spirit when sharing in community with Jesus and finally noticing him in the breaking of the bread.

For our students to recognize Jesus, we must share stories, recall scripture, and break bread with them, just as Jesus did with the disciples on the road to Emmaus.

It is vital that adults who are willing and ready to mentor our young people of All Saints Parish connect with this imperative ministry. Ablaze meets every Sunday from 6-7:30 PM, with flexible scheduling for our volunteers. You do not need to have a school-aged child to volunteer, in fact, we strive to have volunteers of all ages and with diverse experiences. Our volunteers have often noted that this experience can mean as much to them as it does to the students we serve.

Email youthministry@allsaintscr.com for more information on how you can get involved.

Peace and All Good,
Isabelle Werner

Be Prepared

In this reading, we have another parable from Jesus. This time Jesus is cautioning us to always be ready to shine our light. He tells a story of ten virgins who are waiting with lit lamps for the bridegroom. The wise virgins dim their lights to conserve the fuel until they will need it. The foolish use up all their fuel before the bridegroom appears.

The parable of the ten bridesmaids has a moral that is easy to spot. The moral is “we don’t know when God will come, but we’d better be ready, have what we need at hand, pay attention, listen, and be prepared.”

Usually when we hear this story, we think about our last days, and being prepared for our final judgment. But this parable also has a lot to say to us about everyday living. God calls to us throughout our lives, and God expects a response. There is an old saying by Charles Kingsley: “Have thy tools ready: God will find us work.” I think this parable is about having our tools ready.

There is no doubt that parents need special tools to nurture their children to be faith-filled, independent adults. They need patience and courage as well as ingenuity and common sense. They need tools to negotiate and persuade, and tools to comfort and coax. Parents also need practical tools like being able to organize and multitask, cook, clean, and manage the finances.

Since parents can’t do it all, you have to count on others to provide some of the tools they may need. .

What tool(s) do you most need that you don’t have? Can others provide? If not, how can you get them? Pray daily for what you need, and remember God has promised to provide. With prayer and the help of others, your tools will be ready because God knows raising a child provides abundant work.

FAMILY RESPONSE

What tools does your family need to be more loving and giving with each other?

PERSONAL RESPONSE

How can you help make your family and your world a better place? What tools do you need to accomplish this? What do you want to remember from last week? What are you looking forward to next week? What are your concerns?
